

What is required on the bank's side to run Transporter?

Nothing – The Transporter runs on the client-end and communicates directly with the bank website or online treasury system. No technology changes are required at the bank. All customer product support is provided by AP Technology.